SALSI Testimonials

SALSI 2020 Conference Report

Dr Apurva Garg

*Consultant Head & Neck Onco-Surgeon
Choithram Hospital & Research Center
Indore, Madhya Pradesh, India*

"SALSI 2019 was a great platform for students consultants and faculties from dental, medical and public health background. The scientific program, discussions and all panels were world class. It has reinforced the fact that saliva is very precious and highly useful for diagnostics with immense possibilities for future research which may one day substitute blood tests for majority of our diagnosis. My heartiest congratulations to Dr. Gargi, Dr. Paul and the whole organising team. I'm looking forward to the next SALSI eagerly"

Dr W. M. Tilakaratne

*BDS, MS, FDSRCS, FRCPath, PhD
Professor of Oral Pathology
Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Clinical Sciences
Faculty of Dentistry, University of Malaya, Malaysia
Past President: International Association of Oral Pathologists*

"The initiative to hold the first salivary diagnostics symposium by Indian Academy for Clinical and Dental Genetics is highly appreciated as it is very timely and highly appropriate for the current needs in diagnosis. I am sure you brought together a nice team of clinicians, scientists and relevant people from the industry to work together for a common goal. I am hopeful that all the lectures, discussions and fellowship would go a long way in establishing salivary diagnostics in India and in the region. I wish the whole team for the job well done"

Dr Paul Desmond Slowey

*CEO at Oasis Diagnostics Corporation Vancouver, Washington
United States*

"Dr Gargi Roy Goswami is a very industrious, hard working and trustworthy individual who I have worked with as an in-country coordinator and organizer of the very first meetings [symposia] devoted entirely to the field of salivary diagnostics in India. Due to Dr Gargi's marketing efforts over 500 attendees were part of SALSI 2019 [Saliva Symposium India 2019] held in Chennai. A second such meeting is due to be held in Bangalore at the end of January 2020 and due to Dr Gargi's efforts we expect to surpass the number of attendees this time around with possibly close to 1000 attendees.

Dr Gargi is a multi-faceted individual with skills in research, commerce and social media and as a result she has recently entered the commercial sector by establishing a Company in the name of her father, KROYNAS, which I believe will successfully introduce many new tools for salivary diagnostics into the country of India to improve the health of her fellow countrymen and countrywomen
